Further to my statement dated 11 May, 1997 I did not give the full facts in relation to an incident which occurred in Portadown town centre in the early hours of Sunday 27th April, 1997. The content of my first statement is correct up to where we got to the Church in the centre of the town. When Marc Hobson and I walked down the town and got to the front of the Church where the Christmas tree was, we walked a few yards further down the street, we walked down the centre of the street. I could see a fight further down the town, in the middle of the street between Thomas Street and Woodhouse Street. I was about thirty yards from the fight. There were about twenty to thirty people in the middle of the street. I saw a person standing behind the crowd in the middle of the street, this man was wearing a blue shirt and striped tie, he was wearing dark trousers which appeared smart. This man was shouting towards the crowd of Protestants to come on. There was fighting going on in the crowd he was shouting at. I would say he was approximately twenty five years old, and had very short hair, about number two cut. Marc then left me and ran down into the crowd, fighting in the middle of the road. I stood there I would have been standing at the edge of the flower beds facing the Abbey National. I
