

the town.

Now tell me this, for somebody that has absolutely no involvement allegedly in this thing as you say right and I must say that I am not inclined to believe you right. I don't believe that you are being truthful. I want to make that quite clear to you right. Do you understand that, do you.

FORBES

That's okay.

You didn't hit anybody you say.

FORBES

I definitely didn't hit nobody.

Have you any objection to going on an identification parade.

SOLICITOR

Now he is looking at me. It is a question of where I can give him proper advice knowing the purpose of it. For obvious reasons and because of the discussion we had before the first interview Detective Constable, I haven't made any comments with regards to the matters you have put to him. It may well be that
