us. I went up to bed and Kelly did too. I wasn't feeling very well. I'd gone to bed then got up and had been sick in the bathroom. After this I came downstairs and found a number of people in my house. I don't know who'd let them in possibly my sister. I saw [REDACTED] P46 [REDACTED], Chris Henderson, Ian Carville, Stephen Bloomer "Fonzy". I think Dean Forbes came later on. It wasn't a party as such just some friends sitting around talking. It must have been around 5 am or after it that Kelly got up and asked me to go to the shop with her. The two of us went to the Esso garage on the Armagh Road and I got a lolly to take the bad taste out of my mouth. Kelly did too. We walked back round to my house and I went up to bed. I don't know who was still at the house. Kelly later told me she'd fallen asleep in the living room and someone had painted her face with makeup. She'd wakened and was angry about it and threw whoever was left in the house out. At no time did I hear any talk about what had happened up the town and I wasn't even aware there had been a row in the town until alot later that day. As I've already said I was quite drunk so can't be sure even who was here never mind what any of them were wearing or anything else.
