

FORBES           The other fellow lying on the road, he was lying further back more near the path of the bakery, so he was, closer to the junction at the corner.

What was he wearing.

FORBES           I couldn't tell you what he was wearing.

And what did you see happening to him.

FORBES           Nothing he was, he was just lying there and a girl was holding him. She had lifted him up and was cuddling him.

And where, just tell me exactly where you say you were at that time.

FORBES           At that time I was standing just where the flower pots were just in the middle of the road at the neck where they split the junction on that traffic island thing.

Yes that new traffic island thing that you can drive around. You were standing on it, were you.