I have been shown a witness statement made by myself and dated 29 October 1997. I can now state that parts of this statement are untrue. This refers to the parts in which I stated that I stayed at Robert Atkinson's house and was present when a phone call was made to the home of Allister Hanvey. This did not occur. On that night I was actually in my own home address, [REDACTED] with my husband, Michael. We didn't go out that night and I believe we were watching boxing on Sky television. I believe it was Prince Naseem and it was a subscriber match. We owned our own Sky system and the card was in my name. I can't recall any details regarding the Sky number but all we had to do was phone the number on the television. My telephone number at that time was [REDACTED] What actually happened was that Michael was approached by Robert Atkinson. I can't recall if I spoke to Robert Atkinson but I became aware that he was looking to cover a phone call that was made early in the morning to Allister Hanvey's house. Michael told me that he wasn't happy about covering for Robert but it was arranged for him to go to the police station with his solicitor, Mr Sean O'Hagan. As a result of Michael going to the police station I then had to go and speak to police. This was in Sean O'Hagan's office. Michael told me what he had told the police and I then had to go and support him. I didn't like what I had to do but I felt I had to do it for Michael. I also know that Michael didn't want to be involved but he felt obliged to Robert. We didn't pay for the solicitor, Mr S O'Hagan and I believe this was paid for by Robert Atkinson. I can't recall discussing this matter with anybody else at any other time.
