I am at present employed in the clothing retail business and have been for a number of years. I have 3 shops in Portadown, Lurgan and Belfast called Paranoid.

While I had other shops in 1996 I spent the majority of my time at Paranoid in Portadown. I have been asked to recall if Alistair Hanvey bought a silver jacket from my shop. What I can say about that is as follows. I remember a girl called Tracey who worked in a travel agents in Portadown near Magowan Buildings purchased a blue long puffa jacket with a cross on the back made by Daniel Poole. This coat was valued at approximately £150.00 to £175.00. She bought this coat in what I call a lay away system which was part payments until it was fully paid. I believe she bought it for her boyfriend who was called Alistair for Christmas of 1996. I knew she was going with Alistair because they occasionally came into the shop as a couple. I recall shortly after Alistair got this coat either Alistair or Tracey came into the shop telling us that it was damaged on one of the sleeves. One of them left the coat into the shop and we were able to cover the burn mark or possibly a tear mark with a small patch. I
